About our service

We have classified you as a retail customer.

The products we provide are the Society's own products.

We provide you with all the information you need about our products and the service that comes with them. We do that through this brochure, the conversations we have with you, by providing marketing literature about our products and providing the Key Information Document. It is important that you read these documents and ask us if there is anything you need to understand more about.

We are not a financial advice company. We do not make personal recommendations about the suitability of the product for you. We will ask you questions to establish your Demands and Needs for a "Holloway" Income Protection; and to help you make an informed decision to buy our product on your own initiative, we have provided information and documentation about our product. Therefore, an Appropriateness assessment has not been conducted.

If you were to complain or claim you did not understand the product, you may not benefit from the fullest level of consumer support provided by financial services regulators because an Appropriateness assessment was not conducted. Should you require further information on this, please contact us on:
<https://pgmutual.co.uk/contact>

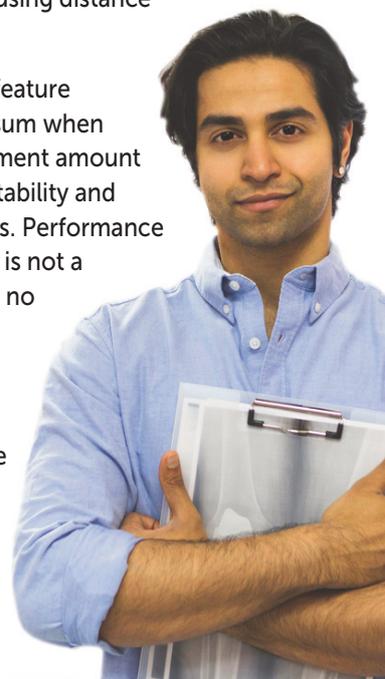

Our staff, when they speak with you, ensure that you have all the information you need and are there to answer your questions openly and honestly.

PG Mutual does not charge you a fee or any other kind of charge or tax payment for providing our product. You will only pay us the premium charged for the policy which is the total price, and this information has been provided in a separate illustration document. The Key Information Document provided to you gives further information about what charges exist within the premium payable for the product.

Currently Insurance Premium Tax does not apply to our products nor do charges from any other third party. It is possible that in the future, Government could change the current taxation regime applicable. There are no costs associated with buying our products using distance marketing techniques.

Our product contains an investment feature designed to pay you a tax-free lump sum when the policy reaches its end. The investment amount achieved will be affected by our profitability and fluctuations in the investment markets. Performance of the investment element in the past is not a guide to future performance. There is no guarantee that a tax-free lump sum will be paid.

At least once a year we will issue a Bonus Statement in connection to the services provided and which explains the financial value of your policy including bonuses added and any ongoing management costs charged.

Payments of premiums is by Direct Debit and the premium price we have offered is valid for 30 days from the date offered. We only transact our insurance business in Pound Sterling.

We strive always to put your best interests before ours and as part of that the Board has established a strong Conflicts of Interest Policy to ensure we continuously try to identify any conflicts that may arise between us, our staff and representatives, you the customer and our other business connections.

We establish internal processes and procedures to manage possible conflicts and to ensure you will not suffer any detriment or disadvantage should a conflict of interest ever materialise. If a conflict ever arises which we cannot prevent or manage, we will advise you of it.

We maintain a Conflict of Interest Policy, this is available upon request.

About the insurance contract

The insurance contract will last until your 65th birthday.

You are able to end the insurance contract before then by telling us that is your wish. If you do cancel before the end date then you may incur the following costs or penalties: if you cancel before age 60 the penalty is the total of the last two payments and interest added to your tax-free cash lump sum. If you cancel in the first two years the penalty is all of the cash lump sum.

From the commencement date of your policy you have 30 days to cancel the policy free of all costs or penalties and any premium paid will also be returned.

You will be issued with a cancellation notice enabling you to do this when the policy is due to start which you would need to return to us.

After the 30 days you may still cancel the policy but will lose the premiums paid.

The law applicable to the insurance contract is the law of England, and the language we will communicate in will be English.

How we remunerate our people

We take great care to ensure our people are remunerated in ways which do not create any conflicts of interest for them or you, and we structure their pay so that there is no inducement for poor sales practices. They do not receive any remuneration from anyone other than us.

We do this by paying our people by salaries with a bonus element for successfully doing their job. Bonuses are not linked to achieving sales targets.

If you wish to know if staff remuneration has been paid related to the specific product you decide to buy, just ask and we will confirm to you if any remuneration bonus has been paid in respect of your product purchase.

How we remunerate our Introducers

When we receive your application for a product which has been referred to us by a third party, we may pay them a fee. If we pay such a fee the amount will be advised to you before your policy starts.
